COURSE DESCRIPTION

Interior design is the modern-day art blended with science and technology in order to enhance building interiors to attain a sustainable and aesthetically pleasing environment for human beings. An interior designer is the one who can understand, apply, and analyze the design concepts related to the field of civil engineering or architectural engineering in order to develop a sophisticated lifestyle in the present scenario. Interior design is a booming profession that differs from place to place including conceptual development, space planning, and customizations based on stakeholder's perspectives in addition to execution of the design. In the present course, it was planned to deliver the knowledge on a home interior design using industry-grade software on a hands-on session platform with one-to-one interaction. This course should act as ideal preparation for all those looking forward to enhancing their knowledge in the field as it is related to every individual.
